The Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe

Maria Ochoa Vazquez

Maria will be breaking open the Word with us this weekend, the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe. Maria, the Program Coordinator at the Ignatian Spirituality Center (ISC), has been a parishioner at St. Joe's since 2005, and served the parish coordinating young adult ministry between 2006-2008. She has been involved with RCIA and the Winter Overnight Shelter as well.

Maria leads program development for the ISC, helping to bring alive the practices of Ignatian spirituality for seekers of all types. For the last 16 years, Maria has served in many roles focused on providing spiritual formation and leadership development in the Ignatian tradition through programs, retreats, and spiritual direction, including Assistant Director for the Magis Alumni Ministry at Seattle University, and Regional Coordinator of the Contemplative Leaders in Action (CLA) program in Seattle.

Maria is a graduate of Gonzaga University with bachelors degree in Art, and holds a Masters in Transforming Spirituality from the School of Theology & Ministry at Seattle University. She is a bicultural/bilingual Mexican immigrant who is an artist and creative, gardener, wife, and mother.

5pm Saturday Mass – The Story of Juan Diego

Join us as we celebrate the Mass for the Feast Day of Our Lady of Guadalupe on Saturday December 11th at the Saturday 5pm Mass (in-person and livestreamed). Parishioner and school parent Julissa Robles is coordinating a group of 6th grade students who will perform a dramatic presentation of the Story of Juan Diego.

This Feast Day commemorates the apparition of the Virgin Mary in 1531 to the humble St. Juan Diego on Tepeyac Hill in Mexico. Mary appeared to an indigenous man at a time when many felt the devastation of colonialism on indigenous culture after the Spanish conquest. The miraculous appearance of Mary's image on Juan Diego's coarse cloak was a sign that God's love is for all people. Her image remains on the cloak which hangs in the Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe in Mexico City.

All are welcome to join us for Mass and to enjoy Mexican bread and warm drinks afterwards! We hope you will join us!

First Reading

Zephaniah 3:14-18a

Shout for joy, O daughter Zion!
Sing joyfully, O Israel!
Be glad and exult with all your heart,
O daughter Jerusalem!
The LORD has removed the judgment against you,
he has turned away your enemies;
the King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst,
you have no further misfortune to fear.
On that day, it shall be said to Jerusalem:
Fear not, O Zion, be not discouraged!

The LORD, your God, is in your midst,
a mighty savior;
he will rejoice over you with gladness,
and renew you in his love,
he will sing joyfully because of you,
as one sings at festivals.

Psalm

Isaiah 12

Haugen

Give thanks and praise the name of God, sing out to all the earth the wondrous deeds that God has done, our savior and our song. Ref.

Shout with joy, O Zion, for dwelling in your midst is the Holy One of Israel, your Savior and your song. Ref.

Second Reading

Philippians 4:4-7

Brothers and sisters: Rejoice in the Lord always. I shall say it again: rejoice! Your kindness should be known to all. The Lord is near. Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, make your requests known to God. Then the peace of God that surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring glad tidings to the poor"

Gospel

Luke 3:10-18

The crowds asked John the Baptist, "What should we do?" He said to them in reply, "Whoever has two cloaks should share with the person who has none. And whoever has food should do likewise." Even tax collectors came to be baptized and they said to him, "Teacher, what should we do?" He answered them, "Stop collecting more than what is prescribed." Soldiers also asked him, "And what is it that we should do?" He told them, "Do not practice extortion, do not falsely accuse anyone, and be satisfied with your wages."

Now the people were filled with expectation, and all were asking in their hearts whether John might be the Christ. John answered them all, saying, "I am baptizing you with water, but one mightier than I is coming. I am not worthy to loosen the thongs of his sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire. His winnowing fan is in his hand to clear his threshing floor and to gather the wheat into his barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire." Exhorting them in many other ways, he preached good news to the people.

Creed

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.
I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us (men) and for our salvation he came down from heaven,
All bow.
and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.
All stand upright.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.
I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Offertory Song

(5) Litany Of Mary

Alonso

1. Like a bird that spreads her wings to gather in her young.
So you open wide your arms to gather in your own.
For our free response you wait, Early morning, noon, and late.

Come and wake us, come and wake us, come and wake us to your welcome. Maranatha, come.

2. From the ends of earth you call your sons and daughters home.
Saying "Gather now from far and near, my people, come."
For our simple trust you yearn till, at last in love, we turn. Ref.

3. For the nations you prepare and spread a splendid feast, Gather ev'ry tribe and race, the greatest to the least.
For one fam'ly, how you long: 'Round your table, vast the throng. Ref.

Holy, Holy, Holy

Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of hosts.
Heaven and earth are full of your glory.
Hosanna in the highest.
Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.
Hosanna in the highest.

Mystery of Faith

When we eat this bread and drink this cup we proclaim your death, Lord Jesus, until you come again.

Great Amen

Amen

Lamb of God

Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us.
Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us.
Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world,
grant us peace.

LITURGY NOTES

Simbang Gabi - by Katy Huston & Jenn Olegario

Simbang Gabi ("Night Mass") is a novena of nine Masses to honor the Blessed Virgin Mary as she prayerfully and joyfully anticipates the birth of Christ. It is a Filipino Advent tradition celebrated for nine nights before Christmas.

Simbang Gabi traces its roots to Mexico when, in 1587, the Pope granted the petition of Fray Diego de Soria, prior of the convent of San Agustin Acolman, to hold Christmas Mass outdoors because the church could not accommodate the huge number of people attending the evening Mass.

The Spanish missionaries brought Simbang Gabi to the Philippines, and subsequently became a unique custom for families to make their way to church in the dark to attend the Masses at dawn. Filipino immigrants brought Simbang Gabi to the United States, where they are often held in the evening.

The faithful wake up early (or, alternately, come in the evening) for nine days before Christmas. The faithful make this their Aguinaldo, their gift to God, for the great gift of Jesus. The practice can also be understood as the preparation of the faithful to receive from God the great gift of Jesus, the savior of the world.

On December 17, 1997, the Archbishop of Seattle, the Most Reverend Alexander J. Brunett, celebrated the first Simbang Gabi in Seattle. He was so moved by the experience that he has since encouraged the entire archdiocese to participate in it. Now, it is observed in more than 80 parishes of the Archdiocese of Seattle as part of the advent celebration. Every year at the Commissioning Mass, the Archbishop blesses the Simbang Gabi parish coordinators and their parols (star lanterns symbolizing the light of Christ) and commissions them back to their parishes to share the joyful celebration of Simbang Gabi with their respective communities.

St. Joseph Parish is pleased to celebrate the Filipino community for this Advent tradition on the Fourth Sunday of Advent, at 5:00 pm on December 18th. We are just one of several parishes in the Archdiocese of Seattle taking part in this Advent pilgrimage.

Simbang Gabi is, above all, a time for the community to celebrate the coming Birth of Christ with family, friends and neighbors. Our church will be specially decorated with lights and colorful parol lanterns that lead us from the darkness to the Light of Christ at Christmas.

By Candlelight: A Young Adult Advent Reflection

Monday nights during advent (December 13, 20)

Time: 6:00pm-7:15pm

Meeting on Zoom - Anna at annarikki@icloud.com

Join the St. Joe's young adult group this advent season on Monday nights for quiet evenings of reflection, prayer, and faith sharing. We will be using the book By Candlelight, By Starlight: An Advent Devotional by St. Joseph's parishioner Cameron Bellm who also writes for the US Jesuits Conference. The book is available online at: <https://brickhouseinthecity.com/product/by-candlelight-by-starlight-advent-devotional-2021/> Participants should provide their own book, but please contact Anna at annarikki@icloud.com if anyone needs financial assistance. After a year filled with change and uncertainty, we want to take time to reflect and share in the meaning of the advent season.

LGBTQ: It's All About Love

Telling Our Stories

by Troy Kaser and Tee Earls

Tee first met my family when they visited Seattle over Thanksgiving in 1999 – and I introduced him as my roommate. Over time, as we shared our story and relationship more broadly, we evolved from spending our holidays apart to alternating holiday visits, as a couple, with each other's families. Extended family members each took their own journey towards acceptance of our relationship, not necessarily fully understanding and certainly not without speed bumps or the occasional controversy. But ultimately, they chose to walk alongside us.

Fast forward and, finally having the right to be civilly married, we started our own family through open adoption. We were selected by each of our two children's birth parents to raise them. We now live an incredibly mundane but beautiful family life where our concerns are focused on feeding the kids balanced meals and getting back-and-forth from soccer practices.

I'm uncomfortable comparing our goofball family to the Holy Family, but there is inspiration in their story. Mary braved the truth of the incarnation at risk of possible rejection by Joseph. Joseph gave himself fully to be Jesus' adopted father. Joseph and Mary even took Jesus to the equivalent of Sunday School, although the lessons weren't over Zoom. I wonder if Jesus, as an eight-year-old, struggled to pay attention as much as my son does?

One of the most beautiful parts of our family is how we have benefited from open adoption, which means we remain in close contact with our children's biological families. These birth parents, aunts, uncles, grandparents, and even great grandparents have accepted us more fully than we ever expected and are kind and generous to our whole family in beautiful ways. As a result, I've been given the opportunity to understand "family" in a more robust and inspiring sense than I ever would have anticipated.

So, as you look around your Thanksgiving or Christmas table this year, I have two requests. First, think about who might be hiding a story they aren't sure if it's safe to share. How can you create a safe and loving environment for someone who is different, like each of us are, and allow them to feel welcome and included? The other is to take stock in the inevitable imperfections and irregularities of family life and, with a sense of true peace, count them as blessings that reveal both our true humanity and what we have in common with Jesus and his journey here on Earth.

Troy Kaser and Tee Earls have been parishioners since they moved back to Seattle in 2011 and are raising two elementary school age children, Erick and Aubrie.

Chosen Families

By Chris Galloway

Not all LGBTQ folks are accepted by their birth families. Some have been told to get out and never come back. Some have been shunned not only by their parents, but also siblings and their entire extended family. Some parents have refused to acknowledge a beloved partner. Sometimes, family invitations continue, but the partner is specifically excluded. LGBTQ weddings can be ignored or seen as sinful. Funerals are especially painful when the deceased's family refuses to acknowledge a gay spouse or partner.

In the midst of judgment and rejection by families of origin, the desire for loving and welcoming families is very real and important. Hence, the concept of "chosen families." A friend told me "It's pretty simple. I choose to celebrate with people who love and accept me. People I like, who are like me. Gay people can pick who we want for family. I bet lots of people wish they could do that."

Chosen family does not mean substitute family. Chosen families are committed to each other, build their own traditions and ways of celebrating. Chosen families are all about love.

A friend I worked with told me about spending Thanksgivings with his chosen family in a house in the Alpine Lakes near Leavenworth. Together, they baked pies and rolls and cooked a turkey dinner with each one making his favorite side dish. They had leftovers to last through the weekend and hiked for hours. He told me about this the week after their 9th annual Thanksgiving in the mountains.

A group of friends I knew (a gay male couple, a lesbian couple and a straight couple) became each other's chosen local family. Each had loving family elsewhere but they celebrated holidays together at each other's homes. They explored the Northwest (Mt. St. Helens, the Olympic Coast, Port Townsend), cooking together, taking long walks, and always a big puzzle going on the dining table. They were part of each other's weddings - gay and straight - and saw each other through joy and sorrow, jobs and children, illness and death.

Holidays are about celebrating with family. All kinds of families- extended traditional families, nuclear families, blended families, chosen families, adopted families. All are part of God's family. All are children of God.

Understanding The Racial Wealth Gap in America

Scripture: James 2: 14-17. “What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, and one of you says to them, “Go in peace, be warmed and filled”, without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead.”

History: Institutional/Systemic Racism: The racial segregation and disparities in wealth between Caucasians and African American people include legacies of historical policies. In the Social Security Act of 1935, agricultural workers and servants, most of whom were black, were excluded because key white southerners did not want governmental assistance to change the agrarian system. In the Wagner Act of 1935, Blacks were blocked by law from challenging the barriers to entry into the newly protected labor unions and securing the right to collective bargaining. In the National Housing Act of 1939, the property appraisal system tied property value and eligibility for government loans to race. The 1936 Underwriting Manual used by the Federal Housing Administration to guide residential mortgages gave 20 percent weight to a neighborhood’s protection, for example, zoning ordinances, deed restrictions, high speed traffic arteries, from adverse influences, such as infiltration of inharmonious racial groups. Thus, white-majority neighborhoods received government’s highest property value ratings, and white people were eligible for government loans and aid. Between 1934 and 1962, less than 2 percent of government-subsidized housing went to non-white people. – The Angela Project Presents 40 days of Prayer for The Liberation of American Descendants of Slavery, Simmons College of Kentucky, 2019

In 1968, the Fair Housing Act (FHA) was signed into law to eliminate the effects of state-sanctioned racial segregation. But it failed to change the status quo as the United States remained nearly as segregated as before 1968. A newer discriminating lending practice was the subprime lending in the 1990’s. Lenders targeted high-interest subprime loans to low-income and minority neighborhoods who might be eligible for fair-interest prime loans. Securitization, mortgage brokers, other lenders, and legislative deregulation of the mortgage lending industry all played a role in promoting the subprime lending market. – The Angela Project Presents 40 days of Prayer for The Liberation of American Descendants of Slavery, Simmons College of Kentucky, 2019

Prayer: “Gracious God, Shake the foundations of our conscience until we cannot help but change our course...Cause us to live our lives to serve others. Teach us that life, liberty and pursuit of happiness requires justice and hope and help and caring. Expand our morality beyond the narrowness of personal piety into the broadness of public policy. Give us the strength to challenge racism, poverty, unchecked militarism, and ecological devastation. Empower us with Your Spirit that we might be a nation unto God, not unto fear; show us again that America is only here by your grace.” From “A Prayer for America” by Rev. William Barber, quoted in Just Faith Ministries 2020-2021

STEWARDSHIP

Stewardship Corner with Mary Wiseman

Did You know? New tax laws and strategies can help you minimize your taxes and maximize your contributions to St. Joseph Parish! Here's how:

$300 Charitable Deduction
Tax-free Transfer IRA Transfer
Double Tax Reduction from Appreciated Stock

2021 is the last year for the $300 charitable deduction for non-itemizers!

Even if you don't itemize deductions, i.e. use the standard deduction, you can deduct up to $300 for donations made in cash that are paid directly to the charitable organization. This allows anybody to give, even in a small way, and reap the tax benefit. Online giving is an excellent way to capture a record of those donations.

Tax-free transfer from an IRA

If you are 70 or older, you can give up to $100,000 per year tax-free from your IRA to St. Joe's (called a qualified charitable distribution or QCD). The gift counts toward your required minimum distribution (RMD), but isn't included in adjusted gross income.

(Donors need not be required to take an RMD now or until age 72, but may still make a QCD. The distribution may be monthly, quarterly or annually. See your account holder for details.)

A double tax reduction by giving appreciated stock

In lieu of sending cash to St. Joe's, you may find greater tax benefits by giving appreciated stock. Holdings owned for more than a year may be deducted based on their value on the date donated. Non-itemizers still benefit from avoiding the capital gains tax on the stock.
