A Note from Fr. Chris

Dear Friends,

I hope you received our mail last week. We wrote to each registered parishioner asking you to help us in an important and challenging task: cleaning up our parish registration information.

(If you've already responded to our mail request and updated your information you can stop reading; if you haven't done so - please continue!)

Many years ago (I mean a lot of years ago!), when I was quite young and attending a family reunion I was frequently asked by adults: "Who do you belong to?" Some would know and say I was "a Cartwright, one of Norma Jane's boys." I think that was the beginning of my knowing to whom and where I belonged, and it was a comforting self-awareness.

I expect that if you are reading this you, like me, belong to St. Joseph Parish. We are a family and this family needs you. Right now we need a big favor: please, update the information about you and your household that helps us communicate with you. Instructions are below!

We want to serve you well, to keep safe and accurate records such as Baptisms, Confirmations, Weddings, house/family members, etc. In our world today, email addresses and cell phone numbers are critical to keeping in touch. We promise we will keep these private.

In the Fall we are joining with the Seattle Archdiocese in a new comprehensive database, ParishStaq, that will go far to help us do the support work that makes it possible to serve our parish family. It will also mean a new cloud-based server to replace our ancient and limping server (it is crashing on us more and more!). Overall, the new system will provide a much more engaging and useful experience for all. Help make our family strong and ready to fulfill God's plans! Indeed, help us fulfill our mission: "Ignited by the Eucharist to Love and Serve."

Blessings on this Feast of Pentecost!

Fr. Chris

Song of the Spirit: Pentecost Sequence

Ash

Holy Spirit, Lord divine, come from heights of heaven and shine,
Come with blessed radiance bright! Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

Come, O Father of the poor, come, whose treasured gifts ensure,
Come, O heart's unfailing light! Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

Of consolers, wisest, best, and our soul's most welcome guest,
Sweet refreshment, sweet repose. Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

In our labor rest most sweet, pleasant coolness in the heat, Consolation in our woes. Veni, Sante Spiritus! Ref.

Light most blessed, shine with grace, in our heart's most secret place,
Fill your faithful through and through. Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

Left without your presence here, life itself would disappear;
Nothing thrives apart from you! Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

Cleanse our soiled hearts of sin, arid souls refresh within;
Wounded lives to health restore. Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

Bend the stubborn heart and will, melt the frozen, warm the chill;
Guide the wayward home once more! Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

On the faithful who are true and profess their faith in you,
In your seven-fold gift descend! Veni, Sancte Spiritu! Ref.

Give us virtue's sure reward, give us your salvation, Lord;
Give us joys that never end! Veni, Sancte Spiritus! Ref.

Gloria

Mass of St. Francis

Lynch

1. We praise you,
we bless you,
we adore you,
we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,
Lord God, heavenly King,
O God, almighty Father.

2. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son,
Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us;

you take away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.

3. For you alone are the Holy One,
you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High,
Jesus Christ,
with the Holy Spirit,
in the glory of God the Father.
Amen.

This weekend as we celebrate the Great Feast of Pentecost, we will proclaim the first reading in a different language with the English translation in our Worship Aid. It's a reminder of the many languages and cultures present in our parish and how we are all enriched by the diversity and unity of our church. Let us hear one another, see one another and be in communion with one another.

First Reading

Acts 2:1-11

When the time for Pentecost was fulfilled, they were all in one place together. And suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were. Then there appeared to them tongues as of fire, which parted and came to rest on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in different tongues, as the Spirit enabled them to proclaim.

Now there were devout Jews from every nation under heaven staying in Jerusalem. At this sound, they gathered in a large crowd, but they were confused because each one heard them speaking in his own language. They were astounded, and in amazement they asked, “Are not all these people who are speaking Galileans? Then how does each of us hear them in his native language? We are Parthians, Medes, and Elamites, inhabitants of Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the districts of Libya near Cyrene, as well as travelers from Rome, both Jews and converts to Judaism, Cretans and Arabs, yet we hear them speaking in our own tongues of the mighty acts of God.”

Psalm

Psalm 104

Warner

Bless the Lord, O my soul, Lord God, how great you are, wrapped in a garment of glory and might, clothed in light as in a robe. Ref.

Lord, my God, great are your works! In wisdom you made them all.
Rich is the earth and filled with your life. Bless the Lord, O bless my soul. Ref.

All of your creatures look to you, to give them their food in time.
You give with abundance, they gather it up, by your hands they have their fill. Ref.

Second Reading

1 Corinthians 12:3b-7, 12-13

Brothers and sisters: No one can say, “Jesus is Lord,” except by the Holy Spirit. There are different kinds of spiritual gifts but the same Spirit; there are different forms of service but the same Lord; there are different workings but the same God who produces all of them in everyone. To each individual the manifestation of the Spirit is given for some benefit.

As a body is one though it has many parts, and all the parts of the body, though many, are one body, so also Christ. For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, slaves or free persons, and we were all given to drink of one Spirit.

Gospel Acclamation

Ash

Al - le-lu - ia! Al - le-lu - ia! Al - le-lu - ia! Praise the Lord!

Come Holy Spirit, fill our hearts; kindle in them the fire of your love.

Gospel

John 20:19-23

On the evening of that first day of the week, when the doors were locked, where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, "Peace be with you." When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord. Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." And when he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained."

Spirit Blowing Through Creation

Haugen

Spirit blowing through creation, Spirit burning in the skies, let the hope of your salvation fill our eyes;
God of splendor, God of glory, you who light the stars above, all the heavens tell the story of your love. (To verse 2)

As you moved upon the waters, as you ride upon the wind, move us all, your sons and daughters deep within;
as you shaped the hills and mountains, formed the land and filled the deep, let your hand renew and waken all who sleep. Ref.

Love that sends the rivers dancing, love that waters all that lives, love that heals and holds and rouses and forgives; you are food for all your creatures, you are hunger in the soul, in your hands the broken-hearted are made whole. (To verse 4)

All the creatures you have fashioned, all that live and breathe in you, find their hope in your compassion, strong and true; you, O Spirit of salvation, You alone, beneath, above, come renew your whole creation in your love. Ref.

Archbishop Paul D. Etienne Issues Joint Letter with Archbishop of Santa Fe and the Bishops of Hiroshima and Nagasaki Urging G7 Leaders to Take Steps Toward Nuclear Disarmament

SEATTLE, May 16, 2023 – Archbishop Paul D. Etienne along with Archbishop John C. Wester of Santa Fe, New Mexico, Archbishop Peter Michiaki Nakamura of Nagasaki, Japan and Bishop Alexis Mitsuru Shirahama, of Hiroshima, Japan, issued a joint letter to the G7 leaders urging for immediate action to prevent further proliferation of nuclear arms. Together they request peace and disarmament – a sentiment echoed by millions around the world. Their appeal to the G7 leaders carries the weight of moral responsibility and represents a unified call for concrete steps towards a safe and more secure world for everyone. Please see a copy of the letter below:

May 15, 2023

Dear G7 Leaders,

We, the undersigned spiritual leaders of the Roman Catholic Church, urge you to use the upcoming summit of the International Group of Seven to undertake concrete steps toward global, verifiable nuclear disarmament.

We commend Prime Minister Fumio Kishida for choosing the City of Hiroshima, the first victim of nuclear war, as the summit venue. That alone is a powerful message. We enthusiastically welcome the meeting between G7 leaders and the hibakusha - the survivors of the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki – as a step toward recognizing the long-lasting horrors of nuclear warfare.

As the Roman Catholic spiritual leaders of the diocese with the most spending on nuclear weapons in the United States (Santa Fe, NM), the diocese with the most deployed strategic nuclear weapons in the United States (Seattle, WA), and the only two dioceses in the world to have suffered atomic attacks (Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan), we are compelled by providence to speak out.

As Prime Minister Kishida observed, the summit presents a unique opportunity “to deepen discussions so that we can release a strong message toward realizing a world free of nuclear weapons” and to “demonstrate a firm commitment to absolutely reject the threat or use of nuclear weapons.”

We strongly agree. We, therefore, urge you to use the summit to center international attention on the importance of nuclear arms control and disarmament and demonstrate a global commitment to nonproliferation efforts. Rather than viewing the war in Ukraine as an overwhelming impediment toward making substantial progress, we view it instead as a clear demonstration of the absolute need to do so.

Specifically, we encourage G7 leaders to:

- acknowledge the tremendous, long-lasting human suffering the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bombings inflicted upon the hibakusha; acknowledge the tremendous, long-lasting human suffering that production and nuclear weapons testing caused to downwinders around the world;

- reiterate a nuclear war cannot be won and must never be fought, as well as emphasize that, as the G-20 agreed to in November 2022, the use and the threat of use of nuclear weapons are “inadmissible”;
- reaffirm the goal of a future world free of nuclear weapons;
- announce and commit to concrete steps to prevent a new arms race, guard against nuclear weapons use, and advance nuclear disarmament;
- reiterate that serious talks should be restored between the United States and Russia to renew full implementation of the New Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty and to negotiate a follow-on treaty; and finally,
- honor the international mandate to enter into serious multilateral negotiations leading to nuclear disarmament, pledged more than a half-century ago in the 1970 Non Proliferation Treaty.

Throughout the years, world leaders have spoken about the need to eliminate the threat of nuclear weapons, prevent a new nuclear arms race, and avoid the ultimate catastrophe that is potentially civilization-ending nuclear war. These calls have long been echoed by many notable world leaders, such as Mikhail Gorbachev, Ronald Reagan, and Pope Francis. But it is now time to translate rhetoric into action.

We believe today’s new nuclear arms race is more dangerous than the first arms race, given multiple nuclear actors and the advent of new cyber and hypersonic weapons and artificial intelligence. Former U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara asserted that humanity survived the Cuban Missile Crisis only by luck. Luck is not sufficient to ensure the continuing survival of the human race.

We strongly urge world leaders at the G7 Summit to show by example how international leadership is ready, willing, and able to work with nuclear weapons and non-nuclear weapons states to ensure no country or city ever suffers the horrors of nuclear war again.

Yours in the hopes of humanity for lasting peace on earth,

Most Reverend John C. Wester
Archbishop of Santa Fe, NM

Most Reverend Paul Etienne
Archbishop of Seattle, WA

Most Reverend Peter Michiaki Nakamura
Archbishop of Nagasaki, Japan

Most Reverend Alexis Mitsuru Shirahama
Bishop of Hiroshima, Japan

End of Letter

With the looming threat of nuclear conflict, the bishops advocate for a comprehensive approach that includes transparency, dialogue, and cooperation among nations. Their plea highlights the moral imperative of prioritizing human security, fostering trust-building measures, and investing in peaceful alternatives.

ANTI-RACISM COMMITTEE

WHAT WE DO

We engage in regular discernment about areas of focus — the decision to focus on one project at a time is the result of a thoughtful conversation about how best to maintain focus and direct our energy towards systemic issues and specific solutions within our parish. If you're interested in shaping the direction of our next area of focus, please reach out! If you have an event or initiative you'd like to plan and lead beyond our current area of focus, we are also here to support you. You can contact us at antiracism@stjosephparish.org

Here are some highlights of things we're doing and have done:

We raise awareness about Indigenous histories and advocacy—during Native American Heritage Month (November) we showed a documentary about tribal recognition, gathered signatures for the removal of the Snake River dams, and shared the new Parish Land Acknowledgment.

We lift up stories of Black Catholic leaders like Sr. Thea Bowman, FSPA—we hosted a gathering to watch videos and learn about Sr. Thea Bowman, who challenged her church to accept her as “fully black and fully Catholic.” She is currently a Servant of God (a candidate for sainthood). In addition, we have facilitated book groups and JustFaith modules, set up the Say Their Names project, as well as marched in Black Lives Matter demonstrations.

We facilitate open discussions about parish culture, art, iconography, and representation in the church building — last year, we organized an Anti-Bias Training for parish staff and volunteers, focusing on what it means to be an inclusive place. We plan on continuing these conversations, along with other topics, during Allyship Trainings later this year that will be open to the parish. Our current focus is working on how to contextualize some of the icons and artworks in the church, and also about ways to bring greater diversity and representation to church art and visuals.

St. Joseph Parish Anti-Racism Committee Mission Statement: “Confronting white supremacy and dismantling institutional racism in our Parish and our community.”

Organizational Statement: “The St. Joseph Parish Anti-Racism Committee is a committee of the Faith Justice Commission that organizes in support of the St. Joseph Parish mission statement: Ignited by the Eucharist to Love and Serve.”
