Faith and Justice 40 Years On

The mission of the Society of Jesus today is the service of faith, of which the promotion of justice is an absolute requirement.

In one form or another, this has always been the mission of the Society; but it gains new meaning and urgency in the light of the needs and aspirations of the men and women of our time, and it is in that light that we examine it anew.

-Decree 4, Documents of the 32nd General Congregation of the Society of Jesus-

A little over 40 years ago, in the wake of the Second Vatican Council, the Society of Jesus gathered to renew its mission, to discern its future in a Church alive with new movements and new energy. Though the representatives of the Society had gathered just a few years earlier to elect a new Superior General, Fr. Pedro Arrupe, this meeting was to be different and virtually unprecedented: called not for the election of a General but to set a direction for the Society as a whole, in light of the Council's call to renewal. In attendance were Provincials and delegates from around the world—including a young Provincial from Argentina named Jorge Bergoglio—and, though most were of European descent (India and Africa were almost completely represented by missionary leaders), there was a sense in the entire assembly that the Society was being reborn. Having suffered under the Suppression, the Society had remained a cautious body since the time of the Restoration in the early 19th century; and though it had done much good, it was only with Vatican II that it began to return to its original charism—through the renewed study of the Spiritual Exercises and the writings of Ignatius. At this moment, it seemed right to reformulate the Jesuit mission, to reassert the charism of Ignatius in light of the “signs of the times.”

In early March, 1975, the Congregation approved, overwhelmingly, Decree 4: Our Mission Today: The Service of Faith and the Promotion of Justice. It was to become a watershed document, which divided the Society as it had been for 100 years from the Society that would develop in the years to come. In the wake of Decree 4, scores of Jesuits have been killed, and many works once held by the Society have been transformed to lay leadership, as Jesuits took up missions among those struggling for justice. From Decree 4, one finds a straight line to the murders of the Jesuits in El Salvador and the establishment of the Jesuit Refugee Service, a natural progression to the Jesuit Volunteer Corps and to the greater integration of lay and Jesuit partnerships in the work of the Church. Decree 4 has become deeply engrained in the life of the Society of Jesus today; so much so that few could imagine a Jesuit parish or school where people were not called to advocacy and service, to engagement with the poor and to immersion in the struggles of the world. Even in the words and actions of the Jesuit Pope—who calls the young to “make noise” and all people to create a Church that brings mercy to the poor, healing to the earth, welcome to the refugee and migrant—one feels the ripples of Decree 4 and the Spirit who brought it forth.

In the 41 years since Decree 4, the Society of Jesus, in companionship with its many constitutive ministries, has learned much about promoting faith through the service of justice. For one thing, we have come to see that, while all ministries must share this mission, not all will share it in the same way. Thus, today, the Society often speaks about the process of social engagement in works of the Society as consisting of five related but distinct steps, for which different sectors and ministries may be more or less naturally attuned: Accompaniment, Service, Research, Awareness Raising, and Advocacy. Accompaniment, being on the ground with real people in the joys and struggles of their lives, is the grounding for all our ministries, since without it ministry becomes simply an idea, a concept. Coming not as dilettantes nor colonizers, we must walk with the people of God, as Jesus did, and from them allow our service to emerge. Likewise, from our direct service, we must then ask the deeper questions of structures and causes. This is the notion of research, which emerges from real problems and seeks more global solutions. Though a parish, such as St. Joseph, may be better suited to accompaniment and service, we must not forget this element of research, nor leave it just to universities and colleges. We need to ask the hard questions that confront the structures of our society. Likewise, moving on from research, we—as a Jesuit parish—must encourage and engage in the dialogue that broadens awareness. Asking the hard questions, we must also seek the complex answers, which may lead us to change and challenge a culture in which we often find comfort. Finally, in company with other organizations—e.g., universities, the Jesuit Conference, lay or Church social service organizations, etc.—we must also be ready to advocate for change, willing to work to create transformative and transformed structures better suited to the justice and mercy we proclaim in our liturgy. Through all these steps, the work of Decree 4 becomes activated, and the mission of the Society of Jesus becomes real.

Last week, in the Dominican Republic, lay and Jesuit partners from across Central America, from the Caribbean, and from North America (both the United States and Canada), as well as visitors from Colombia and Rome, celebrated the anniversary of Decree 4 by continuing the work to which it calls the Society. Looking at various situations and challenges in our region—e.g. the effects of mining and other extractive industries on communities and on the environment; the growing disparity of wealth and its political effects; the violence of organized crime among the poor of Honduras, El Salvador, Guatemala, and Mexico; etc.—we sought to discern the Spirit's call to all of us, as women and men ignited by the Spirit and committed to the Ignatian charism. There was no sense among us that these were “secular” matters, inappropriate to a gathering of religious people and institutions. Rather, we saw in all these issues the face of the God who aligns with the disenfranchised and forgotten; we heard the summons of the Resurrected Christ, who embraces the poor and proclaims the coming of a kingdom of justice; and we felt the living Spirit, who dwells not in heaven alone but in the depth of every human heart and every institution. Decree 4, so deeply planted within the Society of Jesus, articulates in a new way what was already present in the proclamation of the gospel; thus, in living this decree, we merely live the message of Christ, translated for our own times.

In the coming weeks and months, I hope to invite the entire community of St. Joseph—including our partner ministries—to reflect more fully on some of the issues discussed at the meeting in the Dominican Republic. As part of a global community, woven together through the ministry of the Society of Jesus, I hope we can review our own ministries and find, increasingly, points of contact and collaboration with our sisters and brothers across the hemisphere. While some of this already occurs—e.g., in our advocacy for the people of Arcatao as they face environmental and social assault from Canadian gold-mining interests—I know that there is more we can learn from one another, and more ways we can grow to be what we claim we are: the Jesuit Parish in Seattle; i.e., companions in “the service of faith of which the promotion of justice is an absolute requirement.”

Please note: As some of you may have heard there have been a series of break-ins and thefts at local parishes. The focus seems to be on safes and trying to access Sunday collections. I wanted to let you know that we take every precaution to minimize the risk for theft. We regularly monitor our safe to make sure that it is in proper working order and limit the time between collection and deposit so money is not onsite for any extended period of time.

If you should see something or someone that is suspicious, please let us know. Should you see a theft occurring, do not approach, notify the local police right away. The safety of our parishioners, visitors and guests is of the utmost importance.

If you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to contact me. I can be reached via email at rebeccaf@stjosephparish.org or via phone (206) 324-2522, ext. 108.

First Reading

Acts 13:14, 43-52

Paul and Barnabas continued on from Perga and reached Antioch in Pisidia. On the sabbath they entered the synagogue and took their seats. Many Jews and worshipers who were converts to Judaism followed Paul and Barnabas, who spoke to them and urged them to remain faithful to the grace of God.

On the following sabbath almost the whole city gathered to hear the word of the Lord. When the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and with violent abuse contradicted what Paul said. Both Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly and said, "It was necessary that the word of God be spoken to you first, but since you reject it and condemn yourselves as unworthy of eternal life, we now turn to the Gentiles. For so the Lord has commanded us, I have made you a light to the Gentiles, that you may be an instrument of salvation to the ends of the earth."

The Gentiles were delighted when they heard this and glorified the word of the Lord. All who were destined for eternal life came to believe, and the word of the Lord continued to spread through the whole region. The Jews, however, incited the women of prominence who were worshipers and the leading men of the city, stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them from their territory. So they shook the dust from their feet in protest against them, and went to Iconium. The disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Second Reading

Revelation 7:9, 14B-17

I, John, had a vision of a great multitude, which no one could count, from every nation, race, people, and tongue. They stood before the throne and before the Lamb, wearing white robes and holding palm branches in their hands.

Then one of the elders said to me, "These are the ones who have survived the time of great distress; they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

"For this reason they stand before God's throne and worship him day and night in his temple. The one who sits on the throne will shelter them. They will not hunger or thirst anymore, nor will the sun or any heat strike them. For the Lamb who is in the center of the throne will shepherd them and lead them to springs of life-giving water, and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes."

Communion Prayer

Celebrate Mercy

Lord Jesus Christ,
you have taught us to be merciful,
as the heavenly Father is merciful.
Help us to celebrate your mercy:
by loving the world as you love,
by walking the way of your cross,
by living as women and men bound for resurrection.
May the love you revealed
in the emptiness of the cross, bring us the fullness of hope.
May the mercy you offer in your body and blood,
nourish us in mercy for others.
May the glory of God you receive in the wonder of the Resurrection, bring us all to communion with you who live and reign with the Father,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God forever and ever.
Amen.

FAITH JUSTICE

Tent City Coming to St. Joseph June 18-August 27

We are happy to announce our parish has approved a request from Tent City 3 to stay on our parking lot/ playground. St. Joseph has hosted Tent City twice, most recently in 2011. Visit <http://www.sharewheel.org/tent-city-3> to learn more. 31 people attended our first organizing meeting on March 31st! Our next meeting is Thursday, April 21st, from 7-9pm in the Parish Social Hall. Our goal for this meeting is to identify and begin planning weekly events while Tent City is here. Right now ideas include the following: Ice Cream Social, Pizza & Movie Night, Summer Barbecue, Sing-a-long/ Talent Show; Welcome Dinner, Labor/Sack Lunches on move-in & move-out day, Book Group, Art Classes, Educational Forums, Story-telling & Tours, just to name a few. At this point we are looking for individuals, groups, families or ministries to step forward and take responsibility for heading up one of the weekly events. Starting in May we will begin signups for volunteers. However without leaders we can't move forward. We are also looking for resources to get food and other items donated for each event we host. Financial contributions are also welcome and very much appreciated.

TENT CITY INFO NIGHTS: Open to folks who want to learn about what Tent City is, why it exists, how it operates. Come to ask questions and share your concerns.

We hope to have representatives from the Seattle Police Department and Mayor's Office join the conversation too. Parishioners & School Families Info Night will be held on Tuesday, May 3rd, at 7pm. Neighbors & Businesses Info Night will be held on Tuesday, June 7th, at 7pm. Both will meet in the Parish Social Hall.

Our Faith Justice Commission is currently seeking volunteers who may be interested to serve our parish and the global community in this way.

A special "come and see" event for those interested in serving as a CRS Parish Ambassador will be held on Saturday, April 30 at the Chancery from 9:00 AM – 1:00 PM. Please contact Deacon Steve at 206-965-1646 or stevew@stjosephparish.org if you are interested or need further information.

St. Vincent de Paul in Seattle and King County is made up of more than 50 conferences—"all-volunteer neighborhood support groups" who make personal in-home visits and personal contacts to help people with survival and self-sufficiency support. Our neighborhood volunteers are the heart, soul, and face of our organization. We would not exist without them. Their approach to working with people who are suffering and need help is unique. Each conference has a group of members who gather to serve people who need help in their area. These visits help determine the exact nature and detail of the assistance required to help our neighbors. We annually serve close to 150,000 people in home visits, case management, food bank, and related programs. Every year we know our service plays a major role in helping to prevent evictions, all of which are expensive personal and financial tragedies. Costs getting someone back into a home after an eviction are substantial and can amount to between $13,000 and $40,000 per year according to research done by the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Work Description: Volunteers will assist in sorting incoming clothing donations.

Number of Volunteers needed: 15-30 - ages 21 & older. We are specifically targeting Young Adults to participate in this service. Pizza lunch to follow.
