Tearing into the gifts, there were some constants—every year a book for each one of us, a couple of board games, and invariably a sweater or coat with a few shirts—but there were also surprises. A transistor radio for my sister, Patty, or drums for my brother, Bill. The best of these, perhaps, was the year Liz and I both got bikes—Schwin Stingrays, with banana seats and high handle bars. Mine was bright red and hers was gold. With my new sweater already pulled on over my cowboy and Indian pajamas, all I wanted to do was get out on the street, but enthusiasm was pulled back for awhile. For about the time we had destroyed all the piles, and filled the floor with boxes and gifts, my parents would arrive: my father in his grey plaid flannel bathrobe and Indian pajamas, all I wanted to do was get out on the street, but enthusiasm was pulled back for awhile. For about the time we had destroyed all the piles, and filled the floor with boxes and gifts, my parents would arrive: my father in his grey plaid flannel bathrobe and my mother in her long blue robe. They would watch and revel in the madness for awhile, and then sit down—maybe with a piece of pumpkin pie, left over from the night before—as we went through each of the gifts and showed both of them all that we had received.

The night before, on Christmas Eve, it had been their turn to receive, when we all gathered in the living room (reserved for special occasions) and gave them the presents we had bought for them. My mother would create a feast—turkey, ham, green beans, and her famous baked oysters—and we would eat buffet style, invited to come and go until it was time for the great exchange of gifts. Then my father, dressed in an old, rarely worn smoking jacket or big cardigan sweater, would light a fire in the fireplace and take his seat in the large winged chair he had

The Giver and The Gift

It is no use saying that we are born two thousand years too late to give room to Christ.

Christ is always with us, always asking for room in our hearts.

-Dorothy Day-
bought for my mother on the occasion of my brother, Michael's, birth. My mother, on the other hand, still wearing her apron, would sit across the room on the couch, Patty and Elizabeth usually flanking her. One by one we would bring out our gifts and present them, the older kids first and then Elizabeth and me. We were as happy and excited to give my parents these gifts as we would be the next day to receive what was given to us. My father always acted like every gift was exactly what he wanted—whether it was the best seller, Shoes of the Fisherman, which my siblings had purchased, or the two styrofoam snowmen I had found at Andersons' Drugstore (using the money my parents had given me). My mother, on the other hand, acted like every gift was too extravagant—even the ones that, looking back, were objectively ghastly, like the oil painting of an orange ocean sunset that my brother bought one year, or the $3 perfume I had found at the mall. No matter what, she would declare, "You should not have spent your money! This is too much!"

One year, in particular, my older siblings gave her a beautiful veil (a mantilla). These were the days before Vatican II, when women were expected to cover their heads in church, and seeing what my older brothers and sisters had bough, she held it to her heart and began to cry. The photo of that moment, with me on the couch beside her, always reminds me of Christmas, and of the generosity—both in giving and receiving—that my parents taught us, not by word but by example. For we loved it all: the chance to make our parents happy, the experience of giving to those who gave us so much, and the drama of watching my mother's tears and hearing my father's voice declare, as though making a great pronouncement, “This is perfect. Just exactly what I wanted!”

On Christmas morning, after the last of the packages had been opened and then restacked under the tree, we would get dressed and go to church together: all of us children lined up between our parents, from oldest to young-est, and wearing at least one thing we had received that morning. Thrilled by our new clothes and hopped-up on the adrenaline of the morning, we would sing the carols and ignore the homily—too busy looking around at all the other families, filling the church—and then we would go together someplace for breakfast, biding our time until the big Christmas dinner, to be celebrated at the Officers' Club on Treasure Island. There, as my sister, Elizabeth, drank her Shirley Temple and I drank my Roy Rogers (which is, in fact, the same drink) we would all finally let down a little and just be together, without running or wrapping or showing off our new stuff. And, though we would have to pose for at least one picture by my father—which seemed to take forever—we would mostly just enjoy the gift of the day and the joy we felt with each other on the day of Jesus' birth.

With the exception of the styrofoam snowmen, I don't recall many of the gifts I ever gave on Christmas, and even fewer of the gifts I received. They are lost, somewhere in the haze of my childhood, like change in cushions of a couch. But I remember the people I was with, and the joy (and occasional skirmishes) that blessed the holiday and made it unique in the year. Today, my parents and my sister, Elizabeth, have died, living on only in my memory; yet, even before they passed away, new families and new responsibilities had altered the traditions and changed the roles of those childhood Christmases. Still, what remains of those days—the memories of love and of gifts given and received, the joy and the laughter around the tree, the tears of my mother and the warm mercy of home—continue to shape and support me, forming the sinew and strength of my soul, the habit of being which guides me even into my 60's.

When God sought to redeem the world, to rescue each one of us from the darkness of fear and ego into which we can too easily fall, it was not with power nor with armies that God came. Nor was it with great gifts that God sought to win us over. God did not offer us some magic book, or a secret diet, or a 5-year plan to happiness. Rather, God offered us communion through the life of Jesus, the Incarnate Son of God. Like the shepherds out in their fields, we are called from our separate hillsides to come and see the child, his mother, and Joseph, in the place where they are staying. We come to this birth not because we are ready for it, but because it is time: time to be with each other and to let go of all the plans and programs, the technology and fears that keep us from being simply present in this community. Maybe all we can offer is something small—like a shed given to a pregnant couple, because we don’t have room at our inn—but what is most important is that we allow ourselves to become incarnated with the people we love and the people who love us—or who are coming to love us. What saves us, this Christmas and into eternity, is never the pile of gifts, never the stuff we get or even give, but always the blessings and love that take flesh among us, and that are already waiting to be born in our foolish and beloved hearts. Of these gifts, we have more than enough for all, and more than enough to share.

So, if we are blessed, like the shepherds, to know of the Savior's birth, let us be sure to invite the lonely and afraid to go with us to see him. And if we feel we have no room left, as the innkeeper felt, let us recall that even a stable can be a place of blessing. And if we feel exhausted, like Mary and Joseph must have felt, let us stop trying to do more and accept the grace that has already been born among us, joining with those who have come to seek God in the small life that is ours. Let us enjoy the gifts that come to us and the gifts we give, while always remembering that no gift is as great as the ones who gather around us, and the One whom we hold in our arms and in our hearts.
The Nativity of the Lord

Pre-Mass Carols

O Little Town of Bethlehem
1. O little town of Bethlehem, How still we see thee lie!
   Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by;
   Yet in the dark streets shineth The everlasting Light;
   The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in thee tonight.
2. For Christ is born of Mary, And gathered all above,
   While mortals sleep, the angels keep Their watch of wond’ring love.
   O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth!
   And praises sing to God the King, And peace to all on earth.
3. O holy Child of Bethlehem! Descend to us we pray;
   Cast out our sin and enter in, Be born in us today.
   We hear the Christmas angels The great glad tidings tell;
   O come to us, abide with us, Our Lord Emmanuel.

God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen
1. God rest you merry, gentlemen, Let nothing you dismay,
   For Jesus Christ our Savior Was born upon this day,
   To save us all from Satan’s power When we were gone astray. ref
   Reft
   Refrain:
   O tidings of comfort and joy, comfort and joy; O tidings of comfort and joy!

2. In Bethlehem in Judah This blessed babe was born,
   And laid within a manger Upon this blessed morn:
   For which His mother Mary Did nothing take in scorn. ref

3. Now to the Lord sing praises, All you within this place,
   And with true love and charity Each other now embrace;
   This holy tide of Christmas All others shall replace. ref

What Child Is This?
1. What child is this, who, laid to rest, on Mary’s lap is sleeping.
   Whom angels greet with anthems sweet While shepherds watch are keeping? ref

   Refrain:
   This, this is Christ the King, whom shepherds guard and angels sing;
   Haste, haste to bring him laud, the babe, the son of Mary.

2. Why lies he in such mean estate, where ox and ass are feeding?
   Good Christian fear; for sinners here, the silent Word is pleasing. ref

3. So bring him incenses, gold, and myrrh; come peasant, king, to own him.
   The King of kings salvation brings; let loving hearts enthrone him. ref

Isaiah 62:1-5
You shall be a glorious crown in the hand of the LORD,
a royal diadem held by your God.
No more shall people call you “Forsaken,” or your land “Desolate,” but you shall be called “My Delight,” and your land “Espoused.”
For the LORD delights in you and makes your land his spouse.
As a young man marries a virgin,
your Builder shall marry you;

Acts 13:16-17, 22-25

When Paul reached Antioch in Pisidia and entered the synagogue, he stood up, motioned with his hand, and said, “Fellow Israelites and you others who are God-fearing, listen. The God of this people Israel chose our ancestors and exalted the people during their sojourn in the land of Egypt. With uplifted arm he led them out of it. Then he removed Saul and raised up David as king; of him he testified, ‘I have found David, son of Jesse, a man after my own heart; he will carry out my every wish.’ From this man’s descendants God, according to his promise, has brought to Israel a savior, Jesus. John heralded his coming by proclaiming a baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel; and as John was completing his course, he would say, ‘What do you suppose that I am? I am not he. Behold, one is coming after me; I am not worthy to unfasten the sandals of his feet.’”

Gospel Acclamation
Celtic Alleluia
The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

Abraham became the father of Isaac, Isaac the father of Jacob, Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers. Judah became the father of Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar. Perez became the father of Hezron, Hezron the father of Ram, Ram the father of Amminadab. Amminadab became the father of Nahshon, Nahshon the father of Salmon, Salmon the father of Boaz, whose mother was Rahab. Boaz became the father of Obed, whose mother was Ruth. Obed became the father of Jesse, Jesse the father of David the king.

David became the father of Solomon, whose mother had been the wife of Uriah. Solomon became the father of Rehoboam, Rehoboam the father of Abijah, Abijah the father of Asaph. Asaph became the father of Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat the father of Joram, Joram the father of Uzziah. Uzziah became the father of Jotham, Jotham the father of Ahaz, Ahaz the father of Hezekiah. Hezekiah became the father of Manasseh, Manasseh the father of Amos, Amos the father of Josiah. Josiah became the father of Jechoniah and his brothers at the time of the Babylonian exile.

After the Babylonian exile, Jechoniah became the father of Shealtiel, Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel, Zerubbabel the father of Abiud. Abiud became the father of Eliakim, Eliakim the father of Azor, Azor the father of Zadok. Zadok became the father of Achim, Achim the father of Eliud, Eliud the father of Eleazar. Eleazar became the father of Matthan, Matthan the father of Jacob, Jacob the father of Joseph, the husband of Mary. Of her was born Jesus who is called the Christ.

Thus the total number of generations from Abraham to David is fourteen generations; from David to the Babylonian exile, fourteen generations; from the Babylonian exile to the Christ, fourteen generations.

Now this is how the birth of Jesus Christ came about. When his mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, but before they lived together, she was found with child through the Holy Spirit. Joseph her husband, since he was a righteous man, yet unwilling to expose her to shame, decided to divorce her quietly. Such was his intention when, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, “Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary your wife into your home. For it is through the Holy Spirit that this child has been conceived in her. She will bear a son and you are to name him Jesus, because he will save his people from their sins.” All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet:

Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall name him Emmanuel, which means “God is with us.” When Joseph awoke, he did as the angel of the Lord had commanded him and took his wife into his home. He had no relations with her until she bore a son, and he named him Jesus.

Of The Father’s Love Begotten

1. Of the Father's love begotten, ere the worlds began to be,
   He is Alpha and Omega, he the source, the ending he
   Of the things that are, that have been, and that future years shall see. Evermore and evermore!

   And the babe, the world's redeemer, first revealed his sacred face. Evermore and evermore!

3. This is he whom seers and sages sang of old with one accord, Whom the voices of the prophets promised in their faithful word;
   Now he shines, the long expected; let creation praise its Lord. Evermore and evermore!

4. Let the heights of heav'n adore him; angel hosts, his praises sing;
   Pow'rs, dominions, bow before him and extol our God and King;
   Let no tongue on earth be silent, ev'ry voice in concert ring. Evermore and evermore!

5. Christ, to you with God the Father, and the Spirit, One in Three,
   Hymn and chant and high thanksgiving, and unending praises be:
   Honor, glory, and dominion, and eternal victory. Evermore and evermore!

Opening Prayer

Lesson One

Madeline L’Engle

Was there a moment, known only to God, when all the stars held their breath,
   when the galaxies paused in their dance for a fraction of a second, and the Word, who had called it all into being,
   went with all his love
   into the womb of a young girl, and the universe started to breathe again,
   and the ancient harmonies resumed their song,
   and the angels clapped their hands for joy?
   I stand on the deck of my cottage, looking up at the sky full of God's children,
   and know that I am one of them.

Choral

I Wonder As I Wander

I wonder as I wander out under the sky, how Jesus the Savior did come for to die.
For poor on’ry people like you and like I…I wonder as I wander out under the sky.

When Mary birthed Jesus ‘twas in a cow’s stall with wise men and farmers and shepherds and all.
But high from God’s heaven a star’s light did fall, and the promise of ages it then did recall.

If Jesus had wanted for any wee thing, a star in the sky, or a bird on the wing,
Or all of God’s angels in heav’n for to sing, he surely could have it, ’cause he was the King.

I wonder as I wander out under the sky, how Jesus the Savior did come for to die.
For poor on’ry people like you and like I…I wonder as I wander out under the sky.
Lesson Two

Isaiah 52:7-10

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings glad tidings, announcing peace, bearing good news,
announcing salvation, and saying to Zion,
"Your God is King!"

Hark! Your sentinels raise a cry, together they shout for joy,
for they see directly, before their eyes,
the LORD restoring Zion.
Break out together in song,
O ruins of Jerusalem!
For the LORD comforts his people,
he redeems Jerusalem.
The LORD has bared his holy arm in the sight of all the nations;
all the ends of the earth will behold
the salvation of our God.

Choral

Blake/Tavener

Little Lamb who made thee, dost thou know who made thee?
Gave thee life & bid thee feed by the stream and o'er the mead;
Gave thee clothing of delight, softest clothing wooly bright;
Gave thee such a tender voice, making all the vales rejoice!
Little Lamb who made thee? Dost thou know who made thee?

Little Lamb I'll tell thee, Little Lamb I'll tell thee!
He is called by thy name for he calls himself a Lamb:
He is meek & he is mild, he became a little child:
I a child & thou a lamb, we are called by his name.
Little Lamb God bless thee. Little Lamb God bless thee.
Lesson Three

Isaiah 11:1-2, 6, 9

A shoot shall sprout from the stump of Jesse,
and from his roots a bud shall blossom.
The spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him:
a spirit of wisdom and of understanding,
a spirit of counsel and of strength,
a spirit of knowledge and of fear of the LORD,
and his delight shall be the fear of the LORD.

Then the wolf shall be a guest of the lamb,
and the leopard shall lie down with the kid;
The calf and the young lion shall browse together, with a little child to guide them.

There shall be no harm or ruin on all my holy mountain;
for the earth shall be filled with knowledge of the LORD, as water covers the sea.
Who Is That Fat Child

But a shoot shall sprout from the stump of Jesse and from his roots a bud shall blossom.
The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him. The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him.

Who is that fat child? The one who never cries?
He has his mother’s skin, but where did he get his eyes?
And why do they praise him, these men who seem so wise.
Is he the blossom of the bud on the tree of Jesse?

Though the bud shall bloom amidst fields of thorns,
And the winds of time shall ravage the blossom,
The Spirit of the Lord shall not be forgotten. The Spirit of the Lord shall not be forgotten.

Who is that man-child? The one they call the Son?
We’ve waited for so long, he could not be the one.
The one to bring the light of hope, where till now, there is none.
Is he the blossom of the bud on the tree of Jesse?

From the bud that grows on the tree of Jesse, shall spring the Kingdom of all souls united.
The Spirit of the Lord shall live on forever. The Spirit of the Lord shall live on forever.

He could not be that child, the one they prophesy
He seems such a plain child, but I’ve never seen him cry,
Still Kings and shepherds all praise him, I wonder why.
Is he the blossom on the bud of the stump of Jesse?

It Came Upon A Midnight Clear

1. It came upon the midnight clear, That glorious song of old, From

3. For lo! The days are hast’ning on, By prophets seen of old, When with the ever-circling years Shall come the time fore-told, When on the earth, good will to all, From heav’n’s all-gracious King." The peace shall o’er all the earth Its ancient splendors fling, And world in solemn stillness lay, To hear the angels sing.

   ev’ry o’er its Ba’bel sounds The blessed angels sing.

   all the world give back the song Which now the angels sing.
Lesson Four

Denise Levertov

It’s when we face for a moment the worst our kind can do, and shudder to know the taint in our own selves, that awe crack’s the mind’s shell and enters the heart:
not to a flower, not to a dolphin, to no innocent form but to this creature vainly sure it and no other is god-like, God (out of compassion for our ugly failure to evolve) entrusts, as guest, as brother,
the Word.

In the beginning was the Word,
and the Word was with God,
and the Word was God.

He was in the beginning with God.
All things came to be through him,
and without him, nothing came to be.

What came to be through him was life,
and this life was the light of the human race;
the light shined in the darkness,
and the darkness has not overcome it.

He was in the world,
and the world came to be through him,
but the world did not know him.

He came to what was his own, but his own people did not accept him.

But to those who did accept him he gave power to become children of God.

And the Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us, and we saw his glory,
the glory as of the Father’s only Son,
full of grace and truth.

Choral

O Magnum Mysterium

O magnum mysterium, et admirabile sacramentum,

Beata Virgo, cujus viscera meruerunt portare Dominum Iesum Christum. Alleluia!

O great mystery, and wonderful sacrament,

Blessed is the Virgin whose womb was worthy to bear the Lord, Jesus Christ. Alleluia!

Peace on earth and mercy mild, God and sinners reconciled!
Late in time behold him come, Offspring of the Virgin's womb.
Light and life to all he brings, Ris'n with healing in his wings.

Joyful, all you nations, rise; Join the triumph of the skies;
Veiled in flesh the God-head see; Hail the incarnate Deity,
Mild he lays his glory by, Born that we no more may die,

With the angelic host proclaim, "Christ is born in Bethlehem!"
Pleased as man with us to dwell, Jesus, our Emmanuel.
Born to raise each child of earth, Born to give us second birth.

Hark! The herald angels sing, "Glory to the new-born King!"

   you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ,

   in the glory of God the Father. Amen.
First Reading
Isaiah 9:1-6
The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; upon those who dwelt in the land of gloom a light has shone. You have brought them abundant joy and great rejoicing, as they rejoice before you as at the harvest, as people make merry when dividing spoils. For the yoke that burdened them, the pole on their shoulder, and the rod of their taskmaster you have smashed, as on the day of Midian. For every boot that tramped in battle, every cloak rolled in blood, will be burned as fuel for flames. For a child is born to us, a son is given us; upon his shoulder dominion rests. They name him Wonder-Counselor, God-Hero, Father-Forever, Prince of Peace. His dominion is vast and forever peaceful, from David's throne, and over his kingdom, which he confirms and sustains by judgment and justice, both now and forever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this!

Psalm Response
Psalm 96
Today is born our Savior Christ the Lord.

Second Reading
Titus 2:11-14
Beloved: The grace of God has appeared, saving all and training us to reject godless ways and worldly desires and to live temperately, justly, and devoutly in this age, as we await the blessed hope, the appearance of the glory of our great God and savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to deliver us from all lawlessness and to cleanse for himself a people as his own, eager to do what is good.

Holy Gospel
Luke 2:1-14
In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that the whole world should be enrolled. This was the first enrollment, when Quirinius was governor of Syria. So all went to be enrolled, each to his own town. And Joseph too went up from Galilee from the town of Nazareth to Judea, to the city of David that is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child. While they were there, the time came for her to have her child, and she gave birth to her firstborn son. She wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

Now there were shepherds in that region living in the fields and keeping the night watch over their flock. The angel of the Lord appeared to them and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were struck with great fear. The angel said to them, “Do not be afraid; for behold, I proclaim to you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. For today in the city of David a savior has been born for you who is Christ and Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.” And suddenly there was a multitude of the heavenly host with the angel, praising God and saying: “Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to those on whom his favor rests.”

All my heart this night rejoices, as I hear, far and near, sweetest angel voices;
“Christ is born,” their choirs are singing, Till the air, everywhere, Now with joy is ringing.

Hark! a voice from yonder manger, soft and sweet, doth entreat, “Flee from woe and danger; Brethren, come; from all that grieves you. You are freed; all you need I will surely give you.”

Come, then, let us hasten yonder; here let all, great and small, kneel in awe and wonder, Love Him Who with love is yearning; hail the star that from far bright with hope is burning.

Thee, dear Lord, with heed I’ll cherish; live to Thee and with Thee, dying, shall not perish; But shall dwell with Thee forever, far on high, in the joy that can alter never.

Brothers and sisters: In times past, God spoke in partial and various ways to our ancestors through the prophets; in these last days, he has spoken to us through the Son, whom he made heir of all things and through whom he created the universe, who is the refulgence of his glory, the very imprint of his being, and who sustains all things by his mighty word. When he had accomplished purification from sins, he took his seat at the right hand of the Majesty on high, as far superior to the angels as the name he has inherited is more excellent than theirs.

Cantor: Wexford Carol

Good people all, this Christmas time, consider well and bear in mind what our good God for us has done In sending his beloved son.
With Mary holy we should pray, To God with love this Christmas Day In Bethlehem upon that morn, There was a blessed Messiah born.
In the countryside close by there were shepherds who lived in the fields and took turns to watch their flocks during the night. The angel of the Lord appeared to them and the glory of the Lord shone round them. They were terrified, but the angel said, “Do not be afraid. Listen, I bring you news of great joy, a joy to be shared by the whole people. Today in the town of David a saviour has been born to you; he is Christ the Lord.”

Far from that day was the suffering yet to come, the abandonment and wounds, the silent cross. And if they were foreshadowed, we could only sense the light, and feel that sudden grace that filled our world; we, who sat so long as exiles on those hills, heard the songs of angels come to us—and moved beyond our many fears, we came and offered adoration, to One like us, a child of poverty, abundantly loved and loving, through whom God now and always will abide.

Amen.

Liturgy & Worship

The parish community of St. Joseph gathers together to pray and worship throughout the liturgical year. Prayer, especially the celebration of the Eucharist, binds our community together to give honor and glory to God and to recognize the real presence of Christ and the Spirit in one another.

Daily Mass - Start your day with Holy Mass! Stop by the Parish Center at 7 am and introduce yourself. We look forward to seeing you. For more information, contact Peter Wurmbauer at dailymass@stjosephparish.org

Eucharistic Ministers - This ministry is open to all youth and adults who love the Eucharist, have been confirmed, and who strive to show Christ's love in their daily living. For more information and to become part of this important ministry, please contact team captain Mary Sepulveda at eucharisticministers@stjosephparish.org

Lectors - Lectoring is a ministry of proclamation, giving strong voice to the Word of God found in Sacred Scripture, and announcing the Prayers of the Faithful at Mass. Children’s Choir - The St. Joseph Children's Choir “Joyful Voices” sings the 9 am mass three or four times a year, and at the 4 pm Mass on Christmas Eve, with two after school rehearsals before each mass. All school age children are welcome, as long as they are able to focus on singing through rehearsal and Mass. Parents of younger kids may need to sit with them and help them through the music. To sign up or for more information, please contact Jen or Matt Tilghman-Havens at childrenschoir@stjosephparish.org.

Please contact Tom Cannon and Jackie Quinn for more information by emailing rosary@stjosephparish.org

Sacred Silence - We gather in the church, unless there’s a conflict, on Monday nights at 7 pm and end at 8 pm. Time is spent in silent prayerful sitting and walking. It is a peaceful retreat from the busyness and distractions of the day. St. Joseph School

St. Joseph School is one of the largest Catholic grade schools on the West Coast. Key to the school’s success is the participation of the School Commission, a consultative body that advises and supports the Head of School and Pastor on matters pertaining to the school. This last year, the School Commission published its strategic plan - A New Messina (referring to the first Jesuit school) - and began its next steps in the progress of this major parish ministry. To learn more about the school and ways to get involved, please reach out to the Head of School, Patrick Fennessy.
Grouped around some commonality of life experience, our Parish Life ministries provide places and times where we can grow and share our faith lives through active participation in community, social events and retreats.

Faith Formation

As a parish, St. Joseph nurtures intellectual curiosity, emotional maturity, and spiritual formation in all its members, while also seeking to foster a respectful dialogue with the culture-at-large and other religious traditions.

Children’s Faith Formation

Baptism - Baptism is the first of three sacraments of initiation into the Catholic Church. St. Joseph celebrates this sacrament through sessions and weekend liturgical celebrations throughout the year. For information on infant baptisms or for older children, contact Marie Pitman at mariep@stjosephparish.org, and for adults, contact Deacon Steve at stevew@stjosephparish.org (See RCIC below).

Children’s Faith Formation - Raising a family takes love, effort, time, and community, and we work to provide dynamic faith formation experiences here at St. Joseph. Children’s faith formation begins in the home and we are here to support families’ faith heritage through our sessions and family-centered activities.

Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults Adapted for Children (RCIC) - Children who have not yet been baptized by the age of seven years old receive full initiation (Baptism, Confirmation and First Eucharist) into the church during the Easter season. Children participate in preparation sessions as a group to learn about the Catholic faith. Parents and godparents are an active part of the child’s faith formation during this time. Begins in the New Year.

Altar Servers - For young people 5th-8th grade interested in becoming an altar server, please contact Fr. Julian Climaco at jclimaco@stjosephparish.org to reserve a spot in the next training.

Pathfinders Youth Group - Pathfinders has brought together hundreds of youth on Wednesday evenings to form friendships and promote awareness of those in need through the lens of spirituality. Pathfinders is open to all 6th, 7th and 8th graders in our community and meets weekly on Wednesday nights from 6-7:30 pm in the Parish Center. For more information, email pathfinders@stjosephparish.org

High School Confirmation - The sacrament of Confirmation is offered annually beginning with classes in early fall followed by the Confirmation Mass in winter. High school students must be 14 years of age, baptized and received Eucharist, and actively seeking the Sacrament of Confirmation.

The VOICE Youth Group - The VOICE is open to all high school age students interested in exploring their lives and spirituality more deeply – and just having some fun! This group meets once a week; on Wednesday nights from 7-8:30 pm at the Parish Center. For more information, email theresa@stjosephparish.org

Adult Faith Formation

Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA) - We are blessed with a fantastic Rite of Christian Initiation process at St. Joseph. Through RCIA, adults enter into our Catholic community. Trusting that each participant’s journey of faith and spirituality is a lifetime endeavor, RCIA initiates those who desire to enter fully into the Church, through Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist.

Bible Study – Catholics have a deep relationship with scripture academically, devotionally, and liturgically. We offer a number of scripture studies that balance content and personal reflection throughout the year. Check out our ongoing online bible study on our website.

Prayer and Spirituality - Instruction on types of prayer & an opportunity to actively experience prayer at the parish. Please check the bulletin for more information throughout the year.

Related Works - The journey of faith and spirituality continues after entry into the Church and so we embrace a variety of groups, programs, and organizations that assist us in bringing light and grace into our lives. These include the Ignatian Spirituality Center and its spiritual direction services and programs, IPJC and the Spiritual Exercises in Everyday Life (SEEL).

Core Beliefs & Practices – We provide in depth instruction on the basic teaching of our faith; beginning with the Creed, Christology, the sacraments, Catholic social teaching, Mary & the Saints, and Church Councils.

Faith Justice

For more than a hundred years, St. Joseph Parish has served the greater community of Seattle in countless ways. Beginning with our own parish and growing out of the Gospel call to love God and to love neighbor, we have sought right relationship in companionship with each other.

Annual Events - Each year, the Faith Justice ministries of St. Joseph Parish team up with our Outreach Partners to offer four signature service events: the Alternative Bazaar happens each November; the Giving Tree is an annual opportunity for members of the parish to experience the goodness of giving during the Christmas Season; the Epiphany Dinner celebrates the end of Christmas by bringing together parishioners, Outreach Partners, and neighbors from all over Seattle; the Spring Service Days provide parishioners opportunities to make a difference in our community and gather together for our Spring Celebration Dinner.

Dialogue For Justice - The Dialogue for Justice is an Archdiocesan-wide initiative to strengthen Catholic advocacy on behalf of poor and vulnerable people in our communities. The goal of the Dialogue for Justice is to partner with parishes and Catholic organizations to effectively advocate to reduce poverty in our communities through educating grassroots advocates, convening advocacy gatherings, providing legislative briefings, coordinating and supporting in-district meetings with legislators, encouraging participation in Catholic Advocacy Day, and providing advocacy resources to parishes and groups. For more information, email stevew@stjosephparish.org

Sister Parish - As we approach our 30th year in relationship with San Bartolomé Parish in El Salvador, our sister parish committee continues to build bonds between our communities. Areas of focus include addressing the root issues of poverty and emigration to the United States. To get involved, please email Daniel Stoner at sisterparish@stjosephparish.org

St. Vincent de Paul - The Society of St. Vincent de Paul Conference at St. Joseph Parish serves the poor by making in-home visits, listening to those in need and providing support as resources allow. We have no overhead expenses, so 100% of donations help the people we visit. If you would like to attend a meeting or are interested in learning more about the society, please email Dennis West at svdp@stjosephparish.org

And this life was the light of the human race;
The light shines in the darkness
And the darkness has not overcome it.”
