Behind the Scenes: The Making of a YouTube Mass Broadcast

The view from “camera one” below the choir loft

Have you ever wondered how a YouTube Mass is “made”? How does the broadcast come together? And most importantly, who is behind the scenes making sure that we’re all able to participate in the celebration of the Eucharist during this unprecedented time of pandemic?

Since the livestream weekend Mass, and the daily livestream Mass, are such important parts of our life as a church – the church at home, now – we’ll take you behind the curtain to see how the video magic happens, and how we all can pitch in to help keep it running smoothly.

When the state-wide lockdown began suddenly in March, the Parish scrambled to figure out a way to broadcast Mass, as in-person Mass was much too dangerous, and indeed, illegal under the Governor’s orders. After a few weeks of ad hoc Facebook and YouTube “band-aids,” a team of tech experts (who also happened to be St. Joe’s parishioners) started to build a more long-term video solution.

Over the summer, the setup evolved from a camera on a tripod, hooked up to a laptop, into a full-fledged video studio, housed in a spare room next to the choir loft.

The current setup – lots of monitors and wires here!

Of course, the transition wasn’t without a few bumps in the road.

Those of you who have been watching the weekend Mass broadcast regularly may remember a few interruptions in the broadcast, and a (literal) dark spell when some of the church was cast in shadows. The video equipment is very sophisticated, and because it is such high-quality, the lighting needs to be just exactly right. The tech team spent long hours on Friday afternoons, sometimes into the night, testing different lighting strategies to finally solve the problem.

Recently, due to a generous in-kind donation, the broadcast technology has taken a quantum leap in sophistication. Two new cameras, called PTZs ("Pan Tilt Zoom"), are remote-controlled machines that can be programmed to move, zoom, and focus based on where the person who is speaking might be at the front of the church.

The new PTZ cameras, expertly installed by our fantastic Facilities crew

The church YouTube account has over 1,700 subscribers (if you haven't subscribed, do it today!), so we are able to broadcast live at 5pm on Saturday night. Once the Mass is recorded on Saturday evening, the video and sound still needs to be optimized for re-uploading, which takes hours, and a high degree of technical knowledge. Once it's up, everyone is able to watch it at any time – the Mass, coming home to you.

Tech Team:

Drew Becker – Sound engineering
Rich Lappenbusch – Project planning, studio design, and video production engineering
Bob McCaffery-Lent – Project Manager
Wendy Nystrom – Video production engineering
Andy Perez – Graphic design, network and video production engineering

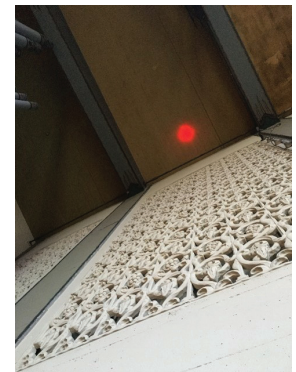

Did you know?

Tuesday through Friday, daily Mass is also broadcast on our YouTube channel. It's a little less high-tech, as there are fewer people involved in the celebration of the Mass. Usually an iPhone and a couple of microphones are sufficient.

You can turn off the advertisements on YouTube by clicking the "x" button in the top right corner of the ad, and it won't return for the rest of the broadcast. (Also, we don't control any of the advertisement content, so don't think that we're behind any of those political ads that pop up!)

Bob McCaffery-Lent, Pastoral Assistant for Music & Liturgy, often records a "Virtual Choir" performance that is then inserted into the Mass broadcast.

A red light is projected on the ceiling above the choir loft to let the ministers on the altar know that the broadcast is live.

Already watched the Mass, but want to hear that amazing homily again? We post all our homilies on Soundcloud for an easy way to listen to just the homily.

Want to get involved? We'll train you, and you will be helping to provide an immeasurably important ministry to the St. Joe's family. Contact Bob McCaffery-Lent for more information: rmclent@stjosephparish.org

Mass Changes

The weekend in-person Masses will now be capped at 75 people. While the 9:30am Mass fills up quickly, there is often room at the 5:30pm Mass.

There will no longer be a Monday 7 am livestream Mass, we will continue to livestream Tues - Fri daily Mass on our YouTube channel.

Important Reminder

Remember: make sure you social distance when you are inside the church. At least six feet apart!

Gloria

Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace
to people of good will.

1. We praise you,
we bless you,
we adore you,
we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,
Lord God, heavenly King,
O God, almighty Father.
2. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son,
Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us;
you take away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.
3. For you alone are the Holy One,
you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High,
Jesus Christ,
with the Holy Spirit,
in the glory of God the Father.
Amen.

First Reading

Exodus 22:20-26

Thus says the LORD: "You shall not molest or oppress an alien, for you were once aliens yourselves in the land of Egypt. You shall not wrong any widow or orphan. If ever you wrong them and they cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry. My wrath will flare up, and I will kill you with the sword; then your own wives will be widows, and your children orphans.

"If you lend money to one of your poor neighbors among my people, you shall not act like an extortioner toward him by demanding interest from him. If you take your neighbor's cloak as a pledge, you shall return it to him before sunset; for this cloak of his is the only covering he has for his body. What else has he to sleep in? If he cries out to me, I will hear him; for I am compassionate."

Psalm

Psalm 18: I Love You, Lord My Strength

Guimont

My God, my rock where I take refuge; my shield, my saving strength, my stronghold.
I cry out, "Praised be the LORD!" and see, I am saved from my foes.

The LORD lives, and blest be my Rock! May the God of my salvation be exalted.
The LORD gives great victories to his king, and shows merciful love for his anointed.

Second Reading

1 Thessalonians 1:5c-10

Brothers and sisters: You know what sort of people we were among you for your sake. And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, receiving the word in great affliction, with joy from the Holy Spirit, so that you became a model for all the believers in Macedonia and in Achaia. For from you the word of the Lord has sounded forth not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but in every place your faith in God has gone forth, so that we have no need to say anything. For they themselves openly declare about us what sort of reception we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God and to await his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus, who delivers us from the coming wrath.

Gospel Acclamation

Whoever loves me will keep my word, says the Lord, and my Father will love him and we will come to him.

Gospel

Matthew 22:34-40

When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together, and one of them, a scholar of the law, tested him by asking, "Teacher, which commandment in the law is the greatest?" He said to him, "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. The second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. The whole law and the prophets depend on these two commandments."

Profession of Faith

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.
I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us (men) and for our salvation he came down from heaven,
All bow.
and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.
All stand upright.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.
I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Mass Of Wisdom

The musical score is written for a single voice part in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time. It consists of five staves of music. The lyrics are written below the notes, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across multiple notes. The melody is simple and hymn-like, with a mix of quarter, eighth, and half notes. The final staff ends with a double bar line.

One Parish One Prisoner Update

The St. Joe's One Parish One Prisoner re-entry support team thanks you for your continuing prayers and material support as we accompany Wes Atkinson as he begins his journey to post-incarceration independence.

There are always challenges when navigating the barriers that our formerly incarcerated neighbors face, but there have been successes, too! Wes has permanent housing in King County, a phone, a computer, and several months' worth of bus passes. We are currently helping him look for a sustainable job, as well as moving state legal and social services paperwork forward. Some days are better than others, of course, but everyone is committed to Wes' physical and emotional well-being.

We ask that you continue to pray for Wes, and if you are able, donate Fred Meyer gift cards or cash to One Parish One Prisoner. We are also looking for recommendations for mental health professionals who would be able to help Wes continue to make strides towards independence as he leaves the mental confines of prison behind.

If you are able to help with one of these requests, please contact Deacon Steve at stevev@stjosephparish.org or Mark Petterson at markp@stjosephparish.org.

STEWARDSHIP

Mary Wiseman
Pastoral Assistant
for Stewardship

Stewardship Corner

November is Stewardship Month at St. Joseph Parish. During this time, we will be asking you to prayerfully consider what you are able to pledge for next year, both in terms of charitable giving and for church operations. Mary Wiseman, Pastoral Assistant for Advancement, will be writing a weekly column explaining answering frequently asked questions and de-mystifying some of the more complex parts of church stewardship. And be sure to look for the State of the Parish report in your mailbox, coming soon!

"In the end, everything has been entrusted to our protection, and all of us are responsible for it.
Be protectors of God's gifts!"

Con Corazón Update

We will have big news from the Sister Parish Committee in the coming weeks! In the meantime, please see this update from Con Corazón, an independent charitable project (not run by St. Joseph Parish), that supports locally-led efforts in Arcatao and Nueva Trinidad, El Salvador.

Update: Currently, FUDEMS has identified COVID-19 response as the top priority. The travel restrictions and a national lockdown have severely interrupted employment, education, youth programs, access to medical care and medication, and the food supply chain. FUDEMS has outlined a variety of different projects to address these impacts -- some of which include a food and medication delivery service, public wi-fi in two towns that were previously without access. Visit here for more information: <https://concorazon.org/en/covid-19-response/>
